

The Balance Sheet - June 2018

In this issue:

- Audit Shield Insurance Cover
- Ladies Morning Out
- Presentations and Training
- Morrison Creed Year End Celebration

Audit Shield Insurance Cover

Over the last month you would have received details of the Audit Shield Insurance cover we offer our clients which covers the cost of our professional fees should the Inland Revenue Department select to audit, review or investigate any returns filed. The Inland Revenue Department have stated that they are putting extra resources into completing audits and reviews specifically targeting some industries. If you haven't taken up the insurance and wish to please contact our office.

Ladies Morning Out

Another successful Ladies Morning Out was held this month with 35 business ladies from around the region attending. We hosted guest presenters - Rachel Shepherd - Real-iQ, Sarah McVerry - Sarah McVerry Marketing, Wayne Dellow - Good Communications Ltd and Mark and Talia Harman from Artisan Kitchen.

We will be holding our next Ladies Morning out later in the year so register your interest early to ensure you don't miss out.

Presentations and Training

Our Xero training sessions are well under way for anyone wanting to ensure they are maximising the programme. If you are new to Xero or have been using it for a while check out our website for a course relevant to you. We can also organise one on one training if you have more tailored requirements.

We have some interesting topics coming up over the next few months including Employment Law, Business - The Changing Landscape, Cashflow Management to name a few. Check out our website for more details.

Year End Celebration

Every year we take a day away from the office to celebrate surviving 31 March.

This year we hired electric bikes and did a circuit of the city stopping in at our clients Hungry Horse Cafe on Tremaine Avenue for a well earned morning tea break. We jumped back on our bikes and finished the bike ride before heading to Orlando Country on Rangitikei Line for lunch and some afternoon activities including Archery and Petanque.

Best regards,

The Team at Morrison Creed
